Public meetings scheduled to discuss half-cent sales tax

McPHERSON — On Aug. 2, 2022, citizens of McPherson will head to the polls. Among the various items being addressed, the City of McPherson is asking voters to consider a renewal of the second half-cent sales tax, which was implemented in 2013 and sunsets in 2023.

To address this vote, the City has scheduled eight public meetings during the next few weeks for citizens to gain more information about what the question means as well as have the opportunity to speak with city officials about the purpose of the sales tax.

The meetings will consist of a 20-minute presentation, followed by a question-and-answer session with various representatives from the different city departments.

All meetings will take place in Citizens Hall at the McPherson Community Building, with the first two being Thursday, June 23, at 10 a.m. and 5:30 p.m.
